

univie: summer school: Translation in History – History in Translation

Perspectives, Approaches & Applications

18-25th September 2019

Centre for Translation Studies, University of Vienna

We are proud to announce the third instalment of the international summer school on translation and interpreting history at the Centre for Translation Studies in Vienna! Just like in the first two years (2017 and 2018), we have invited renowned translation scholars to share their expertise on central issues of translation and interpreting historiography. This year's event aims to provide young researchers with basic knowledge about various perspectives on and approaches to translation and interpreting history as well as with hands-on experience, such as analysing historical documents and researching in archives. Moreover, the participants are going to present their own projects and discuss them in light of the subjects addressed in the summer school.

Confirmed guest lecturers are:

Lieven D'hulst (University of Leuven)

Irene Weber Henking (University of Lausanne)

Małgorzata Tryuk (University of Warsaw)

Andreas F. Kelletat / Aleksey Tashinskiy (University of Mainz/ Germersheim)

Stephan Kurz / Matthias Schlögl (Austrian Academy of Sciences)

Extendend application period until June 30th 2019!

Applications from all countries and different disciplines are welcome. Applicants should have a demonstrable interest in translation (or interpreting) historical issues and the contents of the summer school.

For more information

please visit <https://summerschool-translation-history.univie.ac.at> or contact us at summerschool_translation_history@univie.ac.at