

A detailed medieval landscape painting. In the background, a large white stone castle with blue-roofed towers and spires sits on a hillside. A blue sky with soft clouds is above. In the middle ground, a golden field of wheat is being harvested by two men in simple medieval clothing and hats. In the foreground, a woman in a bright blue dress and black hood is tending to a flock of sheep in a green pasture. The scene is rich with detail, showing a typical medieval rural setting.
